

NAMUSOKE

Tanzania/Zürich-based ragga/hip-hop diva NAMUSOKE finally brings us her long awaited debut full-length, a much accomplished debut album built up with influences ranging from hip-hop and reggae/ragga to soul, for a monumental and groundbreaking album of urban music.

With two singles ("Murder time" and "Survive") released in 2003 and 2004 on the German BUBACK label, a video clip for the track "Survive", and many tour dates in 2005 including a successful show at the prestigious PALEO festival, NAMUSOKE quickly made a strong name for herself in the urban music scene for her unique voice and style, with a strong and growing fanbase already, and a huge buzz around her.

February 2006 will see the release of her debut studio album. Produced by London-based producer THE SEA, well known for producing the cream of UK-hip-hop including RODNEY P's full-length The Future and DYNAMITE MC's forthcoming studio album, this self-titled album has been recorded in the UK in Fall 2005. At the same time adventurous and accessible, the production work brings some truly refreshing sounds and structures, putting together classic ragga and hip-hop influences with creative modern urban music. A perfect style that was needed for the very special and beautiful voice of NAMUSOKE, quoted many time as "simply unique" by the medias, and which definitely makes her so special.

Signed on CHILLY MEDIA, NAMUSOKE brings one of the most refreshing urban albums ever released in Switzerland, a solid and credible full-length from start to finish. This is true quality urban music with a smart attitude, benefiting from wide audience accessibility.
